

It is time for the over-the-air broadcasters to realize that there is a better way to program. XM offers variety that is unmatched on the radio dial. The fact that XM offers weather and traffic should have no bearing on how the FM/AM stations do business, I wouldn't switch off XM for that info anyway. Leave XM alone and see that the future of radio is via satellite.Sincerely.
R. Baker